

Intermediate Drafting Technologist (Custom Home Design)

About Our Company

Our family owned and operated design firm has been a cornerstone in the custom home design and renovation design industry since 1959. We pride ourselves in our attention to detail and high-quality designs to help our clients visualize unique residential and commercial building projects.

Why Choose Us?

We're looking for a full-time Intermediate Drafting Technologist to join our diverse and growing team. We offer a competitive wage and benefit package, as well as a fun and challenging work environment. We treat each other like family and we value integrity, creativity, accuracy, and quality workmanship.

What Your Position Entails

- Creating full working drawings for custom houses, renovations, barns, and shops
- Drawing floor plans, elevations, cross sections, detailing, joist layouts, truss layouts, site plans, and 3D models using BIM and CAD.
- Researching, interpreting, analyzing, and fully understanding local and provincial zoning bylaws and building codes
- Working independently and together with a team of other Designers and Drafting Technicians to solve complex problems and find creative solutions.
- Communicating with clients, engineers, project consultants, and building officials with email, phone and in-person meetings (limited during COVID-19 with safety precautions)
- Measuring existing residential and commercial buildings and producing as-built drawings based on site visit
- Potential for designing and managing your own design projects (based on experience)

Qualifications

- Minimum of a one-year Architectural Drafting Certificate (two-year Diploma or Degree preferred)
- Minimum of 2-4 years experience as a Drafting Technician/Technologist
- Experience as a Building Designer is an asset
- Experience in Construction is an asset
- Proficient in REVIT, AUTOCAD, MICORSOFT WORD, EXCEL, and OUTLOOK
- Full understanding of 2018 BC BUILDING CODE including 9.32 and 9.36
- Ability to visualize 3D objects

Why This Job is for You

Regardless of your experience, we want to meet with you to see where you are at. Although some experience is required, the job description and qualifications may change depending on how much experience you have.

If you are already an experienced designer, you will have increased responsibility with limited oversight. If this is something that you're still working towards, you will still work independently, just with slightly more direction from another designer; let us help and train you to get there.

We can't wait to meet you and find out more!
